

Security Operations Services

Covering High-Threat Environments

The safe and unencumbered movement of people and goods is critical to the economic development of enterprises worldwide. Working in a high-threat environment, however, radically changes the complexion of trying to conduct business as usual. Adequate and intelligent security is the key to survival.

Agility, vigilance and experience are needed for survival in an environment where the enemy is constantly changing tactics, infrastructure is non-existent and cultural norms are unfamiliar. Securing personnel and infrastructure under these circumstances is extremely hazardous and demands specialized professionals with well-honed combat and diplomacy skills.

Trust in Proven Experience

Triple Canopy fields a cadre of seasoned professionals with decades of experience serving in the military's elite special operations and counterterrorist units. Always staying several steps ahead of our adversaries, we use proven techniques and hard-earned expertise to ensure that your assets receive the best possible protection.

We set the security standard with our stringent training, exacting code of ethics and unwillingness to compromise on security measures. We comprehend your security issues and work closely with you to make recommendations or develop solutions that fit your needs.

Customer safety and service take precedence at our company. Triple Canopy has earned a reputation for professionalism. We draw upon our collective experience to develop a security program or solution to meet your needs. Additionally, we provide our clients with the best security systems that the market has to offer and the highest quality security professionals available in the industry.

Selective Personnel Standards

Triple Canopy maintains the highest quality standards in every aspect of our operations, including recruiting. All Triple Canopy operators undergo a rigorous assessment and selection process. In addition to recruiting personnel with extensive special operations training and experience, Triple Canopy conducts the most rigorous pre-employment vetting in the industry, including thorough background checks. After successful completion of this screening mechanism, candidates are required to pass a rigorous three-week vetting process that has an attrition rate of up to 30 percent. This process guarantees the consistent high quality of Triple Canopy security professionals.

Security Operations Services

Triple Canopy implements several different strategies while overseeing protective security details, directing large projects in multiple locations and managing security personnel in hostile environments. Trained drivers, security personnel and armored vehicles for transportation are part of our effective service. Triple Canopy utilizes a minimum of a three-vehicle convoy for transportation of personnel, using a combination of low profile sedans and SUVs. Vehicles and driving formations are matched with real-time intelligence and threat assessment.

Site Security Guard Force Training and Management

Triple Canopy provides fixed-site security and guard force training for sites in low to high-risk environments. We employ various types of access control measures, electronic surveillance and guards, armed or un-armed, for site security. All assigned fixed site guard personnel are trained and managed by Triple Canopy.

Reaction Force Training

Triple Canopy trains reaction forces in the principles of movement and use of force in high-threat environments. Our reaction forces move on foot or in armored vehicles, providing additional firepower when necessary as well as immediate recovery and evacuation assistance where required. Triple Canopy reaction forces are typically included in personnel security detachments with a counterassault team or located on base camps for fixed site or convoy protection.

Equipment Recovery Services

Triple Canopy can deploy personnel security detachments to recover equipment abandoned during unplanned departures and evacuation from high-threat areas.

Surveillance and Countersurveillance

Triple Canopy specialists are experts in surveillance and counter-surveillance measures. These personnel work in high-threat environments as trainers teaching surveillance and countersurveillance techniques in a classroom and exercise environment.

K-9 Services

Patrol, narcotics, bomb detection and dual-purpose dogs with trained and certified handlers are provided. When deploying dog teams, Triple Canopy provides exceptional kennel master support and project management.

Company Profile

Recognized for its performance as a premium service organization, Triple Canopy combines integrity and quality to deliver integrated security and protection solutions to organizations worldwide.

Organizations trust Triple Canopy to secure people, facilities and other high-value assets and provide a wide range of risk management services. We deliver a broad range of professional security services including security assessment and analysis, technical surveillance countermeasures, tactical training, and full-scale security and protection operations.
